

GAVE PLACE TO THE MOTHER

St. Peter's Careful Computation of Benefits Confirmed Resulted in Defeat of the Spinster

St. Peter at his gate received two ladies approaching. He rose to greet them.

Mary Smith widow, "said one Jane Jones' spinster replied the other.

Occupation Shiftpoint speaker, said Jane. "Just a mother," answered Mary.

St. Peter looked troubled.

"I've only room for one just now," he said. "It'll go to the better of you two."

Mary looked pityingly at Mary.

"I who said have been a successful speaker for my cause I have stirred up all they got the vote. Owing to their having the vote they have accomplished the passing of certain bills. The bills have been called since two thousand march be signs. I'm afraid that just a mother here can't stand anything to equal that."

"I'm afraid I can't sign the mother. I never did a thing except bring up my seven boys. They turned out well, but that only makes a human being I've benefited."

She turned quickly away.

"Hold on," said St. Peter. "She turned back. What about those sons? What have they done for their kind?"

The mother's eyes shone.

One discovered the passage of a bill which did good to hundreds. The other established a home for blind children.

St. Peter pencil down some figures.

The fourth led his regiment past a danger point and saved them all. The fifth is a person who lives what he preaches. The sixth is an artist who has delighted hundreds. The next—well, he's busy bringing up his sons. His wife is a real fragrant."

"Come right in," said St. Peter. "Your net totals two thousand and eleven—New York Times."

Now "Missing Link"

An important find of human remains has been made in Sussex, England. It is part of a skull and jawbone and will come to be known as the "Pitts' down" skull. So far, it is believed, possibly, the remains belong to that immensely remote period when the North Sea was dry and the meadow required the land. In short, to the Pliocene era. The skull is extraordinarily thick, nearly one half of an inch. It has a good straight forehead and an undoubtedly bad brain. The jaw seems to indicate, however, that there was no power of speech. There are more by two well worn molar teeth. In place but other things show that in life there were great canines and large front teeth. In this it differs from the famous Heidelberg skull which is also apelike in form but known as to teeth. It was found with mastodon and other bones of elephant, boves and primitive flints; but those Sir Ray Lankester considers, may or may not have been animal. The skull is being restored. It seems to link man to a new species and confirm his near relation to the ape. The find was made by amateur geologist Charles Dawson. P. A.

Quite Good Interest

Mr. Andrew Carnegie tells the following story with great relish. When his father was leaving his native country to settle in America he borrowed twenty pounds from a relative. The family had an uphill battle on the other side of the Atlantic but when the tide of prosperity turned with the son he remembered his father's indebtedness and determined to clear it off, together with its accumulated interest. He started by remaking the man a city plan and for several years set the man apart a director of the board of the Chamber of Commerce in that city.

Well, said Mr. Carnegie, I am a full speaker. It is time for me to speak. I should like to speak on behalf of the city.

Ah, is Andrew Carnegie full speaker, said Jane. "No, you're pretty good, but not the best."

Ah, said the rich man.

Bank to him, if the people would like to hear me speak.

Don't mind the principal. At least the relative. It is very well in regard to the city. No, you're pretty good, but not the best."

Modern Dentistry Not Modern. A medical authority has issued a number of newly required type of information that would contribute to the proposition that modern dentistry is modern. Achievements of unknown dentists of past of history and now prove the contrary. This is the dentistry that the dentists are not always aware, but the results of their work have proved in and a tooth that bridge work on which the moderns specially pride themselves of the most difficult kind was done in some instances in so contemptuous a spirit that the tooth of a man were found four inches apart. One tooth would not fit properly in the mouth and the other could not be held together by a gold wire that was held together by a gold wire that of the former by being triangulated to it, what will be called crowns in this day—fastened in by gold wire. In the museum at Corfu the ancient capital of the Ptolemaic Federation are to be seen many specimens of dentures done by skilled hands of ancient.

To Air a Bed

The project was to air a bed if you are opposed to removing the clothing from the bed to throw the sheets over the patient, unless a chair placed to keep them off the floor and then lift the mattress in the middle, turn it up so that the air passes under and over it. One half hour of this will thoroughly air the bed. The windows to be open at the time of course. In making up the bed shake the sheets well as they are put in place. You will then have a tidy, fresh bed and an orderly room soon after you are dressed. This will help make your housekeeping easy.

INHABITATIONS

By Vick McDonald Porgen

Each new day is a treat beginning,

each new day is a treat beginning,

I will start anew this morning with a higher, nobler creed.

I will cause to harbor thoughts

about my noble mission's

creed.

I will cease to sit repining while my body's cold is clear.

I will seize my moment whining

and my heart shall rest in content.

I will look always about me for the things which merit in the world's hidden beauties

that climb the causal grace.

I will try to find contentment in the path I'm called to tread.

I will never cry unhappiness when another moves ahead.

I will never harbor envy when up

other's worth is shown,

I will not demean my merit but will strive to prove my own.

I will try to see the beauty spread

before my rain or shine.

Conse to preach of noble duty and

be more faithful to mine.

D. A. Q. Club

The members of the D. A. Q. Club were delightfully entertained on Wednesday morning by Mrs. T. P. McDonald. On entering the guests were served refreshments tea and sandwiches. After several games in which Mrs. Bush Smith won the prize, a pot of coffee, some delicious ice cream and cake was served.

Miss Watford Hostess

The Elwell Auction Bridge Club was charmingly entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Miss Alice Watford at her home on West Main Street.

The home was prettily decorated for the occasion with a profusion of cut flowers. After the usual game of bridge the club prize being won by Mrs. Eric Gellerstedt, a delight ful tea and sandwich course was enjoyed. Miss Watford was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Walter Watford. Besides the Club members there were present Mrs. Parke Ford, Mrs. W. R. Watford and Miss Jessie Scarborough.

HAVE A DAY TO SWEEP

RULE THAT MAKES FOR ORDERLINESS IN THE HOUSEHOLD

Parlors and Dining Rooms Should Have a Thorough Cleaning Out Every Week, and the Bed Rooms Every Two Weeks.

Dining and Living rooms need a thorough turning out and sweeping once a week while every other week will usually suffice for bedrooms. If they are picked up as it is termed each day—that is kept tidied and well dusted.

Before sweeping a room it is a good plan to remove as many of the large pieces of furniture as possible or partly, the upholstered kind. If this is impossible then each article should be covered with a dust sheet so that the dust does not get into the furniture.
